

Table with multiple columns including names, IDs, dates, and locations. The table contains a large volume of data entries, likely a record book or list of individuals with their respective details.